TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE.

By Appointment.

St. Pancras Station is the terminus of the Midland Railway, one of the main connections with the North of England. A French writer lately described it as "a monumental railway station, like a cathedral with its arched windows, its turrets, and enormous belfry, all of red brick which the weather darkens so prettily." It has certainly one of the finest frontages of any of the London termini.
